DIANNA PHAM

11902 Sumo Cir, Garden Grove CA 92840 · (714) 260 5595

diannapham.se@gmail.com · linkedin.com/in/diannapham-se/

A self-taught developer with a bachelor's degree in Human Development. Originally an optometric intern at Marshall B. Ketchum University before pursuing web development. With a passion for technology and well-being, I am committed to communication, teamwork, innovation, and advancement through programming.

PROJECT EXPERIENCE

MARCH 2022 – PRESENT
OMEGA EYE | FIGHTING GAME WEBSITE, HTML5, CSS3, & JAVASCRIPT

- Developed a video game website using designing and programming languages.
- Programmed functions to display player status, player movement, and animated actions.
- Utilized Git as primary version control system to manage and compile files.
- Configured website for AWS deployment.

FEBRUARY 2022 – PRESENT
MILK | MESSAGING WEBSITE, HTML5, CSS3, & JAVASCRIPT

- Developed a messaging website using ReactJS libraries and React framework.
- Used JavaScript to organize structure and render code within the framework.
- Programmed functions such to display user messages, timestamps, and emojis.
- Added user login authentication and website deployment using Firebase.

EDUCATION

AUG 2014 - MAY 2019
BACHELOR OF ARTS | HUMAN DEVELOPMENT
CALIFORNIA STATE UNIVERSITY, LONG BEACH
Dean's (2017-2018) | Honor's List (2019)

SEPT 2010 - JUNE 2014
HIGH SCHOOL DIPLOMA
GARDEN GROVE HIGH SCHOOL

SKILLS

- HTML, CSS, JavaScript languages
- Git version control system
- GitHub repository
- React JS framework
- Chrome Developer Tools
- Redux Developer Tools

- Problem solving
- Attention to detail
- Active listener
- Attentive learner
- Detail-oriented